FLEXIBILITY IN THE FACE OF ADVERSITY BREEDS SUCCESS

Catering a high-end function for hundreds of people can be stressful under the best of circumstances, but when there is a power loss throughout the entire campus the day of the event, due to a blown transformer in the area, the odds of disaster increase exponentially. When this situation occurred at Kent Denver, the Sodexo Food and Facilities Management Teams jumped into action. The Foodservice Team acted quickly, reviewing the equipment capabilities and making necessary adjustments to the menu and cooking process. Simultaneously, the FM Team acted to ensure that the limited electricity available was put to best use. Focused on supplying the event staff with as many resources as possible, including flashlights and like. Sodexo's Teams worked together, exercising great skill, fast thinking and flexibility, to pull off a fabulous event. Perhaps the greatest testament to its success was that guests never even knew a problem had occurred.
